The season I like best paragraph in Bangladesh 150 easy word

The season I like best in Bangladesh is winter. Winter starts in November and lasts until February. During this time, the weather is cool and comfortable, making it perfect for outdoor activities. The sky is usually clear, and there is very little rain.

One of the best things about winter is the fresh vegetables and fruits that are available. Carrots, cauliflowers, and oranges are common during this season. People also enjoy traditional winter foods like pithas (rice cakes).

Winter is also a time for festivals and weddings. Many people go to picnics or visit parks, enjoying the pleasant weather. In the mornings, there is light fog, and people wear warm clothes like sweaters and jackets to stay warm.

I like winter the most because it is peaceful, and there are many fun activities to do. The cool weather and happy celebrations make it my favorite season in Bangladesh.
